The Milton Dean Havron Social Sciences Award was created at the University of Maryland 25 years ago, and it is offered every year to a graduate student who has demonstrated scholarship and financial need to assist the student in the timely completion of his doctorate.

The 2013 recipient is Sociology’s Scott Albrecht. Through this Award, our institution wishes to recognize Scott’s accomplished research trajectory. As part of the Award, he will receive $1,000 to be used for costs and supplies for completing and producing his dissertation.

To officially confer the Award, we will hold a brief recognition ceremony on Monday, November 11 (members of the Havron family will be present). At this event, Scott will be present a 20 to 35 minute account of his dissertation research.

The schedule is as follows:

- 11:00 am - ASY 1101 - Presentation of the Havron Award and recognition of his family by Patricio Korzeniewicz.
- 11:10 am - Presentation of Research by Scott Albrecht, recipient of award.
- 12:00 noon - Lunch at Adele’s with Dr. Havron, Scott Albrecht, and invited faculty and students.
